The Event

BIOGAS Americas in Denver is the leading trade fair for the biogas industry in North America. It brings together experts, companies, and decision-makers to present innovations and technologies in the field of biogas and renewable energies. Denver, the host city, is particularly considered a pioneer in renewable energy, making it an ideal environment. Take the opportunity to be an exhibitor at the German Pavilion at BIOGAS Americas 2025 to present your company to a wide professional audience, establish new business contacts, and benefit from dynamic developments.

Your Advantages at the German Pavilion

- Reduced participation fees
- Comprehensive support before and during the trade fair
- Top placement and high visibility within the event
- Exhibitor lounge with snacks and beverages
